

Husband Killed Saving Wife From Electrocution

BATON ROUGE, June 15—UP—A Baton Rouge housewife was under treatment at a local hospital today for burns after her husband was killed as he saved her from electrocution.

Police said Samuel Joseph Voorhies, 28, father of two children, died late last night as he pulled his wife to safety when a floor lamp shorted out as the couple worked on home repairs in the basement of their suburban home.

Mrs. Voorhies was badly burned on one hand and taken to a local hospital.

Police said Voorhies, a native of Moreauville who had lived here for the past six years, was using a spray attachment fixed to the lamp to douse his garage with insect compound when the lamp short-circuited. The floor of the garage was wet.

He apparently pulled his wife to safety, but died when hit by the electricity. Voorhies is survived by his widow, two children, five brothers and five sisters.

Target Practice Scheduled, Rifle Meet Saturday

The Rifle club, sponsored by the Monroe Recreation department, will meet at the police officers' range on Buck Jones Lane, Saturday afternoon at 1:30. A brief meeting will be held at 1:30. A target practice will be held.

All boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 18 are invited to join the club. Ammunition and guns are provided by the Monroe Recreation department for the shooting. Boys and girls are asked not to bring their guns.

Bernice Doctor Suffers Injury In Auto Accident

BERNICE, June 15 (Special) — Dr. C. C. Colvin, in his early 70's, suffered an injury to his right hand requiring surgery when he had a head-on collision with another car one mile north of Bernice on the Marion highway about 6:20 p.m. Thursday night. His condition was reported today as "good." He is co-owner of the Colvin-Reeves hospital here.

Only minor lacerations on the forehead were reportedly suffered by Mrs. Forrest Post, passenger with her small daughter in the other car, driven by her husband, the Rev. Forrest Post.

The accident occurred, according to reports, when Dr. Colvin signaled a left turn and the Post car passed into his lane.

Chamber Backs Planning Measure

The Monroe Chamber of Commerce has contacted all other chambers in Louisiana urging support of house bill 1133, which is designed to provide for regional planning commissions, James S. Williams, executive secretary, announced Friday.

The bill has the local backing of Twin City officials, city and parish school boards and the police jury.

It is a "general enabling bill," which means that it "allows cities and parishes throughout the state to have the advantages of planned growth and development."

One great advantage to the regional planning commission is that it allows any area that carries the program an opportunity to get one-half of planning cost in federal aid, Williams said.

A "special bill" similar to the Monroe chamber sponsored bill but differing in that it affects only their area has been introduced for the Alexandria-Pineville Chamber of Commerce, he said.

Quachita Parish representative Gilbert Faulk introduced the bill in the house.

$38,671 Contract Given For Repair Of Tarver School

A contract in the amount of $38,671 has been awarded to W. C. Salley to repair the damage to the Carver Elementary school building, Van D. Odom, superintendent of City Schools announced Friday.

Mr. Odom said that the damage was done mostly by water and smoke and principally in one long corridor, the ladies lounge and in adjacent classrooms.

The work is to begin immediately. Rivers and Houser are the architects for the building.

Monroe Civitans Induction Slated

The Monroe Civitan club voted to hold its installation exercises, when the officers for the coming year will be inducted, on the night of June 28. Incoming officers will be Milton Childers, president; Chief J. T. Reagan, vice-president; Charles B. Lawrence, secretary, and B. F. Bettis, treasurer. Members of the board also will be inducted.

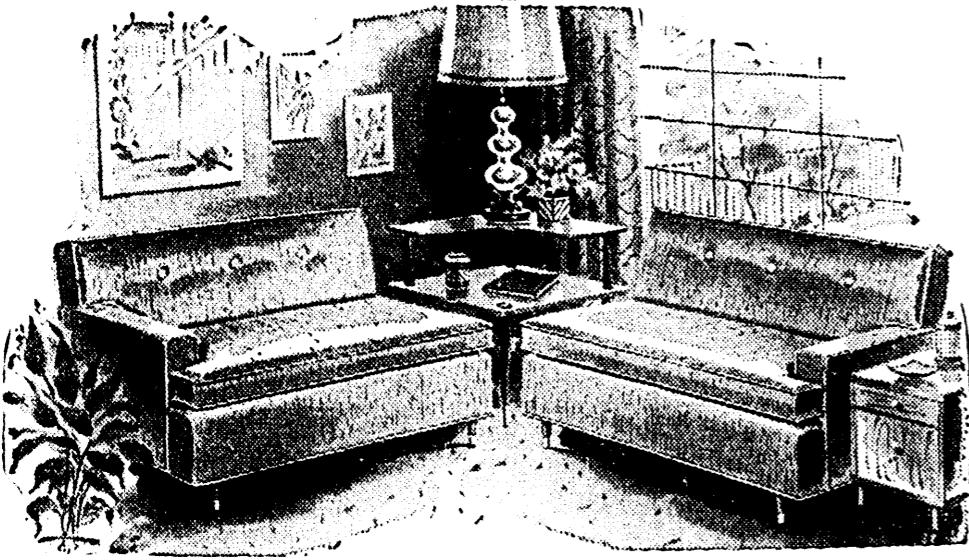

Wives of members will be invited as this is to be ladies' night. It is expected to have a speaker, one who will have a message of interest. Also it is expected that out-of-town Civitan officials will attend for they are to be invited.

There are about seven million farm dwellings in the United States.

May Be Released

HONG KONG, June 15 (AP)—Two Roman Catholic missionaries from San Francisco, the Rev. John William Clifford and the Rev. Thomas Leonard Phillips, have been released from prison in Red China, Radio Peiping announced today. They are expected to reach Hong Kong within a week.

The priests are the first U. S. citizens to be freed by the Chinese Communists since Dr. and Mrs.

HONG KONG, Saturday, June 16 (AP)—Two American Roman Catholic priests reported from Shanghai by telephone today, "Please tell our loved ones we have been released and we are well."

The two priests talked with The Associated Press by telephone.

The phone talk was their first conversation with anyone in the outside world since they were freed from three years of Chinese Communist imprisonment last night.

Homer Bradshaw, Presbyterian missionaries, were turned loose last Dec. 20.

Eleven U. S. citizens remain in Red Chinese jails.

Father Clifford and Father Phillips were freed exactly three years after they were arrested in Shanghai. Last November they were taken from their jail cells for a public trial on charges of espionage and counterrevolution.

Long Schedules Appeal To Solons For Sunday Night

BATON ROUGE, June 15 (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long said today he would make a mid-session report to the legislature Sunday night and explain their "responsibility" to pass his tax raise bills.

Long urged the lawmakers to come back at 7:15 p.m. Sunday because he wanted to address a joint session. Both House and Senate were scheduled to return at 7:30 p.m.

The speech before a joint session was announced just before the House adjourned today. The Senate went home yesterday.

In a wide ranging press conference after the session, Long discussed his tax raises on sulphur, timber and race track betting.

He also declared that Mayor deLesseps Morrison of New Orleans was "the most vulnerable little squirt in the state" and Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr., was "not the sweet daisy cutie that the newspaper people think he is."

Asked about four bills sponsored by the Joint Legislative Segregation Committee awaiting his approval, Long replied he would sign them.

But he didn't reply when asked if he would sign a bill passed by the House yesterday, banning intramural athletic contests.

A host of administration measures, tax raises, a bill to call a constitutional convention and other controversial proposals, await action on the House calendar.

Administration leaders dodged showdown votes after most of the bills cleared committee this week. Tax raises require a two thirds vote—68 in the House.

"I'm going to talk to them about taxes, what I think about their responsibility and mine," Long said. "I told some phases to the committee, but I haven't told all of them."

Long made frequent appearances in pushing the administration bills out for a House vote.

"Most of the tax raises I advocate are not put into effect until after the people act on them," he added. "That's true of the sulphur and timber severance taxes. They're both in the constitution."

He said the administration bills would be called up for a House vote next week.

"They'll have to come off next week," Long said, "or it won't do much good."

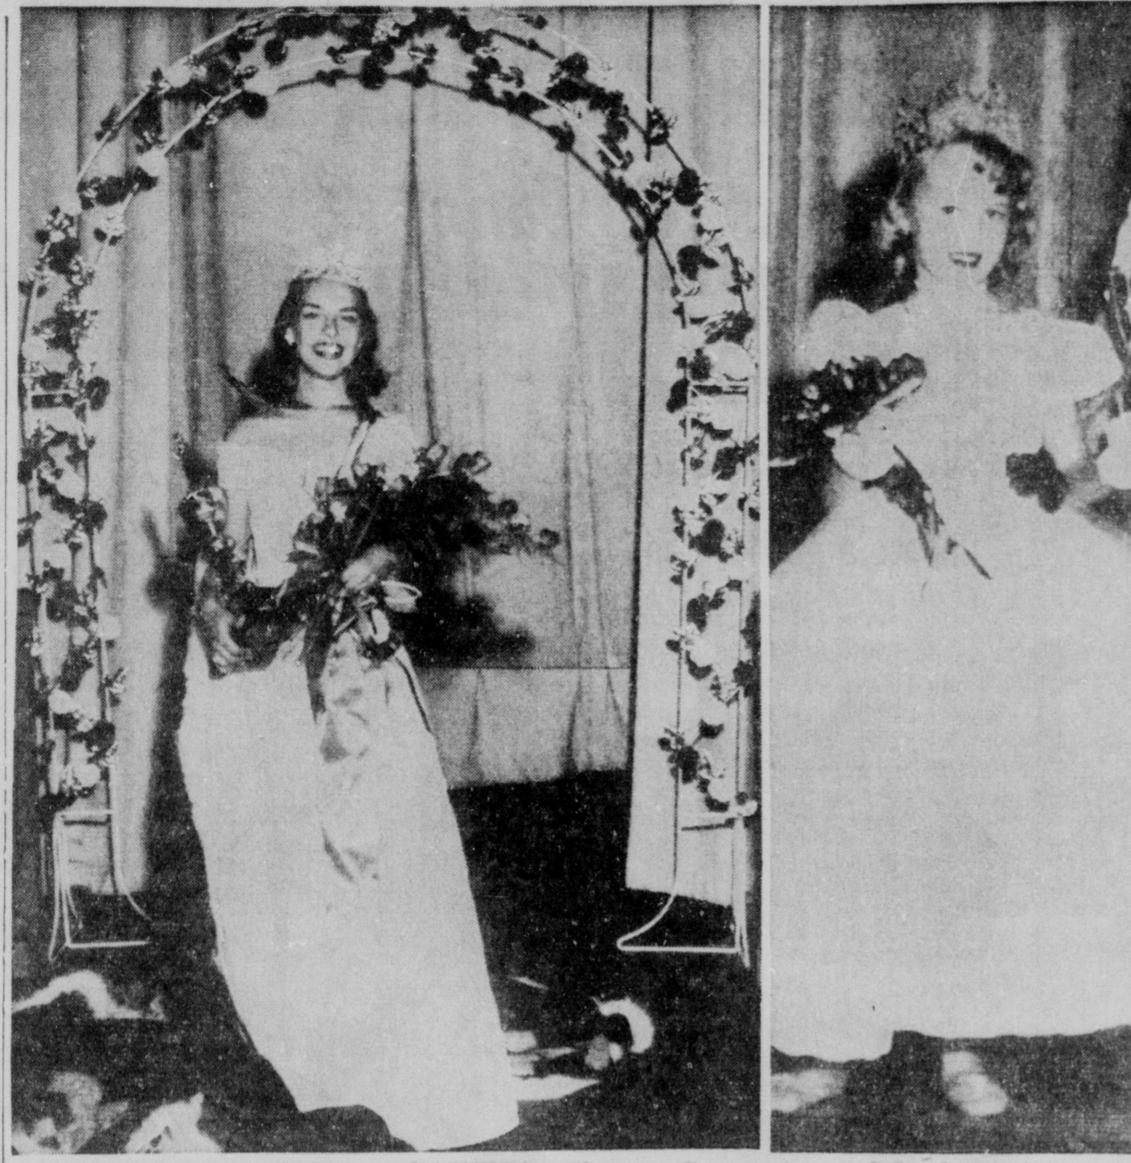

Speaking of the opposition to his tax bills, the governor said, "I

Chiropractic Bill Killed By Vote In Louisiana House

BATON ROUGE, June 15 (AP)—House right to work repeal backers today asked time to look at Senate amendments to the agricultural right to work bill before giving approval.

The right to work repeal measure has passed both houses and is on Gov. Earl Long's desk. Long said he is going to sign it.

A companion bill, retaining right to work for agriculture, has also passed, but is awaiting House concurrence on Senate amendments extending its coverage to cottonseed and rice mills.

Rep. Byran Lehmann Jr., leader of the House floor fight for right to work repeal, successfully sought a delay to study the Senate amendments. Rep. John Garrett, right to work leader, agreed to postponement of the concurrence vote.

"We are sincere," Lehmann said, "in seeing that farmers get their just deserts."

The move came just before the House adjourned until 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The Senate returns at the same time when Gov. Long is scheduled to address a joint session after having worn white in the evening dress contest.

In the wake of recent outbursts of interservice feuding, Democratic senators and top Air Force officers have demanded closer identification, the defense secretary said.

"There are those who seek a magic formula to remove all differences of opinion and who advocate such things as 'complete unification,' placing everyone in the same uniform, a single chief of staff, or similar ideas," he said.

"The stifling of intelligent discussions for the sake of unanimity will not guarantee the perfect answer. More importantly, it is foreign to our concept of a free society."

Army documents were cited in the recent controversy which attacked the Air Force theory of intercontinental bombing. Other documents ridiculed aircraft carriers and Army anti-aircraft missiles, and Navy spokesmen claimed their carrier-based plane could a-bomb a target anywhere.

White is conducting a campaign to popularize bicycling and "get Americans on their feet" because he doesn't believe they get enough exercise.

Official weather forecast for Louisiana predicts considerable cloudiness with scattered showers today and Sunday.

Arkansas is expected to have thunderstorms Saturday and Sunday with little change in temperature.

The maximum temperature recorded at Selman field Friday was 85 degrees and the minimum 70 degrees. Rainfall was recorded as 1.37 inches for the past 24 hours.

Eleanor Cammack Gains Queen Title In Monroe, W. Monroe Beauty Show

Miss Eleanor Cammack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Cammack of 1902 Spencer Street, Monroe, and a 1955 graduate of Neville High School, last night won the title of Miss Monroe-West Monroe of 1956 from a field of 12 beauties who displayed a wide array of talents and individual charm.

Making the most of the talent division to win points from the judges and the hearty applause and support of a near capacity audience Miss Cammack entertained with a graceful ballet dance that contributed much to the evening's well-planned, entertainment-packed show. She was equally winsome in a white evening dress and white bathing suit in those phases of the evening's competition.

Second-place in the contest was won by Miss Jerry Kenny, who donned choir attire to sing "Ava Maria" very beautifully as her talent number. She was also clad in white for the evening dress feature. The third-place winner was Miss Doris Kitchens, who sang "You're In My Heart" as her talent selection. She appeared in blue for the talent contest after having worn white in the evening dress contest.

The other finalists in the pageant were Miss Young who drew enthusiastic applause with a tap dancing performance that added another touch of perfection to the highly entertaining program, and Miss Marie Williamson, whose talent act was in modeling and designing. Miss Williamson modeled "The Wonder Wardrobe" of her own design. A net overskirt, an apron and a various assortment of hats rounded out a complete wardrobe hinging upon one basic dress.

Miss Sara Battan, Miss Monroe-West Monroe of 1955, provided the commentary for the unique style show presentation.

Aside from its billing as a beauty pageant, the show and contest, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, stood on its own feet as tops in entertainment. The other seven contestants contributed talent numbers that made a genuine variety show of the annual occasion.

Miss Eloise Foster entertained with a vocal number, "They Keep Coming Back Like A Song," to start off the talent phase of the program. Miss Glenda Bennett followed with an uplifting excellently read patriotic speech, "I Speak For Democracy." Next on the program was Miss Kaki Walker's talent number, a pantomime of "Sweet Old Fashioned Girl" which borders

Offshore Lease Measure To Be Offered Sunday

Gremillion Seeks To Allow Drilling
By Pact With U. S.

BATON ROUGE, June 15 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion said today a bill would be introduced in the Legislature Sunday night to permit "oil companies to continue drilling" in areas disputed by Louisiana and the federal government.

Gremillion said the legislation was agreed on after a conference between representatives of the oil companies drilling in the "twilight zone," the State Mineral Board and the attorney general.

Gremillion said Gov. Earl Long would designate the bill emergency legislation, taking effect with his signature.

Louisiana claims its boundary extends three leagues (10.5 miles) into the Gulf of Mexico. The federal government recognizes only three miles.

At the suggestion of the U. S. Supreme Court, both sides have agreed to delay leasing in the disputed area until the high court decides the boundary dispute.

However, the agreement resulted in a shutdown of offshore drilling in the area, throwing hundreds of persons out of work.

State officials and the oil companies began conferences yesterday in an effort to work out an agreement to permit work to resume.

Gremillion, in a press release, announced that after the conference today, "a bill was prepared which would enact the necessary legislation authorizing the state

Pink Boll Worms

Louisiana Cotton Farmers To Face Heavy Invasion

BATON ROUGE, June 15 (AP)—Louisiana's cotton fields face the heaviest invasion of pink bollworms in history, agriculture commissioner S. J. McCrory warned today.

"Our entomologists have found pink bollworms in the blooms of cotton in a field in southwest Louisiana," he said, "the first time they have been found this early in the season.

"Finding this early infestation in blooms is a definite indication of a tremendous build-up in the numbers of this pest by harvest time."

He said the cotton field is in the Johnsons Bayou area of Cameron Parish, near the Gulf of Mexico and about 15 miles from the Texas border.

"We have our men dusting the fields today," McCrory said, "and will kill as many of the adult moths as possible. There is no way to hurt the larvae in the blooms, and we will simply have to wait until they become adults.

"Unfortunately, by that time, most of the damage will be done.

"But it is easy to see that the damage will be great. In 1952, when the pink bollworms were found this early in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas, the damage that year amounted to a $2 million dollar loss."

Trouble is, states President J. W. Roberson, we have grown too big for the almost new buildings we occupy. In order to keep up with the tremendous progress of the Twin Cities, Roberson an-

Hungry Tigers Caught After Terrorizing Rome

ROME, June 15—UP—Two hungry tigers escaped from a circus Saturday and terrorized the densely-populated area around the Colosseum where the Romans sacrificed Christians to the wild beasts 2,000 years ago.

Police and firemen netted and caught one of the tigers shortly after they escaped through a rusty cage door of the Togni State Circus. But it took 90 minutes of stalking before riot police with submachine guns, firemen with huge nets and a lion tamer armed only with his own courage could subdue the second tiger.

Before it was captured, the second beat, named Delhi, killed a donkey and mauled a circus pony.

But a dog mothering her puppies proved too much for the tiger. When the huge cat approached her litter, Tina, a four-year-old Fox Terrier backed him down, and the puzzled tiger turned slowly toward the haven of a pile of hay bales where the lion tamer and firemen captured him.

Police and circus workers formed a human chain around the circus area to keep the tiger in sight.

The two beasts put their weight against the cage door and it buckled at the height of the morning shopping tour. Men, women and children in the circus lot screamed the alarm and fled in all directions. Housewives and their children were terrified as the news flashed by word of mouth through the crowded district less than a mile from the ruins of the Colosseum where the Romans held their own bloody "circuses."

Firemen and circus attendants quickly threw a net over one tiger and subdued it.

Delhi took more doing. For 90 minutes the tigers loped around the circus lot. Finally, it wandered into a maze of hay bales and stood listlessly.

Firemen and the lion tamer heaved a net over the beast. Then while cautious firemen held the net, the tamer, Dario Togni rigged a small sectional cage near the tiger. Using pitchforks, Togni and the firemen and police prodded the beast into the makeshift cage.

don't know anybody the sulphur people haven't got doing something for them.

Including of transportation, a field in which labor unions are more active, may be the cause of the House move to give the Senate changes further study before holding a vote.

Efforts to legalize the practice of chiropractic were killed by the House. A legislative act giving Chiropractors legal status was voluntarily withdrawn and an accompanying proposed constitutional amendment was knocked out on a 54-17 roll call.

After the roll call, Rep. John Lewis, a chiropractor, declared, "I have heard the medics were the third house in Congress, but I believe they're the first house in Louisiana."

Lewis made a plea from the floor for the House to override an unfavorable report on the chiropractor measure by the House Committee turned down the proposal 11-4.

Chiropractors would be licensed and placed under a regulatory board under the measures. The constitutional amendment would have required voter approval in November.

Dr. Alton B. De Nux, a dentist and chairman of the Public Health Committee, asked the House vote, which upheld the committee.

"There are almost 3,000 medical doctors in Louisiana," he declared, "and I have never seen one of them specialize in chiropractic. Why don't they if it's so good? Why isn't it taught in our medical schools?"

When a chiropractor gets a toothache, he doesn't press a nerve. He comes to Dr. De Nux right quick."

Lewis, seeking to advance the measure for floor consideration, asked, "Do you think 44 states would license chiropractic, the GI bill would recognize chiropractic training schools, unless there had been a great benefit to mankind?"

Sister Kenney's revolutionary polo treatment, he said, was only recognized over objections of medical groups.

Rep. Willard Rambo, a co-author of the chiropractic bills, contended the committee "has no power to direct this August assembly. It's silly that 11 men would tell 101 men what they should do."

Rep. Wellborn Jack of Caddo urged defeat of the chiropractor proposal, but asked the House to favor a proposal that a study commission be named to look into the whole problem and make recommendations at the next legislative session. The bill, carrying a $25,000 appropriation, has not yet come up for committee approval.

Jack denied charges by Lewis that the medical society was the real sponsor of the bill. He said the doctors favor it, "but that bill is mine."

Rep. Samuel Cashio, House Appropriations Committee chairman, disclosed the committee is about half way through an item by item approval of the record $41 million dollar general appropriations bill.

A final committee report is expected early next week.

Cashio said no major changes have been made so far in the big money bill advanced by the administration.

Committee consideration of the bill is being held in executive sessions from which spectators and the press are barred.

The Peiping broadcast said:

"Two American offenders, John William Clifford and Thomas Leonard Phillips, who completed their prison terms on June 15, were released by the authorities today."

Advance notice had been received here through the British diplomatic mission in Peiping and through the British Red Cross.

U. S. and British consular officials and church representatives went to the Hong Kong-China border today before the Peiping broadcast, hoping to be able to greet the two. Now it appears they will not reach this British colony for several days.

The Reds refused Jan. 6 to release the last 13 Americans they held, despite a promise Sept. 10, 1955, to free all. Talks in Geneva between U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Red Chinese Envoy Wang Ping-nan have been stalled for months on this issue and what the United States calls Chinese refusal to make "a meaningful renunciation of force" in settlement of the Formosa issue. The Chinese want a U. S. China conference of foreign ministers to discuss outstanding issues.

Release of the two priests raised hope the Johnson-Wang negotiations would begin to make progress on the question of the U. S. prisoners, at least.

The Americans remaining imprisoned in Red China are:

John Thomas Downey of New Britain, Conn., and Richard Henry Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., civilian employees of the Army and Air Force who were aboard a plane shot down in 1952.

don't know anybody the sulphur people haven't got doing something for them.

"I'll say it's a different company than Jefferson Lake but they use the same tactics," he added. "I don't see why they don't let the people decide about the increase in the sulphur severance tax. Are they afraid?"

In 1954, Long bitterly criticized former Gov. Robert Kennon and the Legislature for paying a judgment for Jefferson Lake Sulphur Company. The State Supreme Court okayed the claim, amounting to almost $900,000, but a series of governors and Legislatures had refused to pay it.

Freeport Sulphur Co., producing about 95 per cent of Louisiana's sulphur, is the chief opponent of the increase in the severance tax.

Long said his bill raising the race track betting tax from 13 to 16 per cent had been amended to drop out a 20 per cent tax on admissions.

"We found out they gave away 500,000 free passes at the New Orleans Fair Grounds last year and 100,000 free admissions," he said.

But he added that was the last change in the bill he would accept.

"They say they're going to close down if the tax passes," Long said. "I'd hate to see that." Long is a frequent patron of horse racing.

But he added, "there's a new group down there that wants to start a new track. They say they'll build a track that'll make the Fair Grounds look like six bits."

Then he turned to New Orleans Mayor deLeesses Morrison, sharply criticizing his fight to keep the city's present lion's share of the race track tax revenues.

"I don't know of any race track in America where the state gets less than the city," Long said. "In most cases it's about a five-two division."

Morrison said the city of New Orleans had to get his and he didn't care if anybody else got anything."

Long and Morrison tangled in a debate before the House Ways and Means Committee on the bill, but Long gave way and gave New Orleans priority over Louisiana State University and the state fair and festivals.

The governor then lashed at Morrison as "the most vulnerable little squirt in the state" because of his record.

"The only reason Morrison is left with a shirt tail," he said, "is because he's a newspaper shirt tail and not his."

"If the newspapers would stay shut up, I'd eat him up on the basis of facts versus bunk."

He also lashed out at the secretary of state, contending he was "not the sweet daisy cutie that the newspaper people think he is."

Long is pushing legislation to strip Martin of his duties as state insurance commissioner and custodian of voting machines.

Martin and his father, Chairman Wade O. Martin Sr. of the Louisiana Public Service Commission, are fighting back. The Martins are long-time political powers in Louisiana.

There have been reports the lawmakers were seeking to recall lawmakers cooperating with Long, including Rep. Robert Angelle of

St. Martin Parish, who is a Long House leader.

Long, who early in the session

had the Legislature address 14 board members out of office, said he thought a recall petition was "unheard of, just because they didn't vote the way they wanted them to work."

"A lot of bills are going to be lost, that's why I tried to persuade them to work today," he continued.

But although they didn't work hard enough to suit him, Long still said, "I doubt there's ever been a Legislature as bright and independent. They just lack experience."

The House has about 50 per cent

new members with only 13 of 39

senators returning from 1955.

Driver Not Injured
In Auto Accident

No injuries were reported in a minor car-truck collision last night about 8:30 near the intersection of North Third and Arkansas streets.

Driver of the only moving vehicle involved was Mrs. Ethel N. Dent, 48, of 1217 South Second street.

Dent's car was about $450 officers said.

The Dent woman told officers she turned north off Arkansas street and struck the gravel truck which she contended was moving.

Officers said the truck was parked out of the traffic lane. No charges were filed.

Arab Spokesman Gives Cure For Mid-East Peace

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16—UP—Dr. Fayed Sayegh, deputy director of the Arab states delegation office in New York, said today the "imperative condition" for peace in the Middle East is for Israel "to acknowledge that the Arab world is there to stay."

In an address prepared for delivery before the Commonwealth Club of California, the Arab spokesman charged that "Zionist Israeli leaders are so preoccupied with asserting that Israel is there to stay, that they forget that the Arab world too is there to stay."

Sayegh charged that Israel has repeatedly violated the general armistice agreements which were designed by the United Nations to settle the Palestine problem.

"Israel today occupies 40 per cent more territory than was granted it by the United Nations," he said. "Israel today has expelled one million Arabs from their homes and prevents their return to their ancestral land."

"Israel today prevents the internationalization of Jerusalem—which city it has declared its national capital. Israel has subjected the Arabs who remain on the territory under its control to multi-form discrimination and persecution."

"In every essential respect—in its territorial scope, in its boundaries, in its capital, in its population, in its minority policies—Israel differs radically from the 'Jewish' state envisaged by the United Nations."

W. Monroe Lions Witness Program By 3 Hypnotists

Three members of the Northeast Louisiana Hypnosis Association presented a 30-minute program at the meeting of the West Monroe Lions Club at the Barn Thursday night.

The hypnotists were introduced by Lion Program Chairman Hugh Taylor, who stated something unusual in the way of entertainment had been arranged. The invitation to the hypnotists to appear was extended by Lion George Scoppe.

Robert Canedo, psychology instructor at Northeast Louisiana State College and psychology counselor for the hypnosis association, addressed the club on the meaning effects and possibilities of hypnosis.

W. G. Jasper of West Monroe gave a demonstration in mass relaxation, during which a number of the Lions Club members went into a light sleep.

Fred Marshall of Winnsboro, formerly of Monroe, gave a hypnotic demonstration, in which he mentally forced the subject's arm to rise from a table, after which the subject was unable either to raise or lower his arm. He finished the demonstration by telling the subject that when he awoke he would attempt to smoke a cigarette but would be unable to do so. The subject not only threw the cigarette away after a few puffs but rinsed his mouth with water immediately to take out the bitter taste.

Reds Have Over 8 Million Under Arms—Brucker

PHILADELPHIA, June 15 (UPI)—The Communists have more than eight million men under arms, including 2½ million in China, Secretary of the Army Wilber Brucker said yesterday. He said most of them are ground troops.

Brucker told a Flag Day celebration at Independence Hall that the ground troops are organized into 405 "well-trained divisions ready for immediate action."

He said the Communist force and "... a diabolical ideology of hate, atheism and intellectual perversion" are two important Communist weapons.

Half the United States Army is deployed overseas and "our troops abroad constitute visible evidence to the leaders of the Communist conspiracy that we mean exactly what we say—that we steadfastly intend to resist aggression in any form," Brucker said.

Present U.S. Army strength is about 1,054,000.

Two Arrested, And Two Transferred To Penitentiary

Cleo Ethridge, Negro, employed at Robert Frank's used car lot in West Monroe, was arrested Thursday and held under $500 bond charged with property damage, the sheriff's department announced Friday.

E. V. Young is being held by sheriff's officers at Cameron, and will be turned over to the Ouachita sheriff's officers, charged with the theft of $12 from Robert Fuller of 608 South Grand street. Bond was set in the amount of $500, the sheriff's officers said.

Sheriff Bailey Grant transferred two prisoners to Angola Friday morning. They were:

William Davenport, 49, Negro, sentenced to two years each, by Judge Jesse Heard, on two charges of felony theft, sentences to run concurrently.

Arthur D. Ashley, 39, sentenced to a total of seven years by Judge Jesse Heard for three counts of felony theft.

Another Double-Cross By Earl K. Long

Angry charges that Governor Earl K. Long violated his campaign pledge to remain neutral in the fight over repeal of the right-to-work law are circulating among members of the Louisiana Legislature.

Opponents of the bitterly fought repeal bill, which squeaked through the Senate Friday by a vote of 21 to 18, assert privately that last-minute pressure by the Governor apparently swayed the votes of two or three Senators who were opposed to the wiping out of this wise and beneficial law, fair alike to union labor and the people generally.

A shift of two votes meant the difference between repeal or retention of the Act.

The evidence seems conclusive that Governor Long, in violation of his campaign pledge to the people and his assurances to the members of the Legislature, moved into the picture and threw all his influence and prestige behind a movement to repeal this fundamental legislation.

Not a single Senator north of Alexandria, not a Senator in the Fifth and Fourth Congressional districts, embracing the vast Monroe trade territory, and that of Shreveport, went along with Governor Long in this latest campaign-breaking manifestation of one-man rule and tin-horn dictatorship.

All of the Senators from the Fifth and Fourth districts refused by their votes to be made catpaws, or yield to the pressure applied by Governor Long to violate another of his campaign pledges. Every one of them stood fast and resolute, shunning midnight political trades and post-midnight blandishments apparently offered in high executive quarters.

Does Governor Long want to deny publicly that he violated his campaign pledge and his word to the Legislature? That he intervened actively, telling Senators that the right-to-work law must be repealed?

Would he make such a denial under oath?

Governor Long perhaps would not make such a denial under oath, since there are criminal laws against perjury. It can be a penitentiary offense.

In the absence of a public denial by the Governor, supported by affidavit, we must assume on the basis of the evidence available that the Governor forsook his role of "neutrality" and violated another one of his campaign pledges, on which he was elected, and sold the public down the river once again.

Governor Long has shed his campaign pledges and solemn promises as a rattlesnake sheds its skin when autumn is in season.

He was elected on his tearful plea that he would not increase taxes, but, in all likelihood, reduce them.

His campaign promises, in the light of his few brief weeks in office, are repudiated utterly and forgotten, mocked and scorned, in contemptuous disregard of what he told the people; and vast new taxes ruinous to the State and parishes, by scores and two-scores, are piled on the Legislative boards and being supported by a subservient Legislature, some with his active approval.

The repeal of the right-to-work law, a wise act supported by 80 per cent of the people of Louisiana, as we believe, coupled with the disastrous tax raids against the natural industries of the State, do not sit well with the people of the Fifth Congressional District. Their resentment is reaching boiling point as they watch the apparently mad antics of a Governor and a Legislature dwelling in a hog heaven, swilling at the public trough, violating their pledges and promises, foreswearing themselves in a comic-opera attempt to turn the clock of Louisiana back 20 years and reincarnate Huey P. Long's dictatorial horse-and-buggy regime in an atomic age.

From what we can hear, among all classes and elements of the people, they are sick and tired and disgusted with this ruinous farce of political dictatorship, this cheap opera at Baton Rouge; and those legislators with even a grain of political sense, or a sense of political self-preservation, should take heed while there is yet time.

Louisiana is too good a state, its people are too well-informed and patriotic, and conscious of their own jobs and civic interests, to stand for this sort of betrayal any length of time.

We as a people have been sold down the river. What are we going to do about it, when a Governor and his Legislative majority wantonly and deliberately violate many of the pledges on which they were elected to office.

We see taxes piling up, heaped one upon another, and industry being driven out, and unemployment made inevitable, and the State's recently-bright industrial future being turned into a dust-heap and rubble and ashes.

Shall we as a people stand idly by, while our own ruin is encompassed by turncoat politicians, whose campaign pledges prove no more trustworthy than the word of a courtesan?

Explosive Issues Face Vote In Congress

Politically explosive bills dealing with "civil rights" and a vastly stepped-up program of federal aid to education have been bottled up in the House Rules Committee all during the current session of Congress.

But in an unusual action taken this week, a majority of the Committee stamped and moved to bring these measures to the floor for early House action.

The chairman of the powerful Rules Committee is the veteran Representative Howard W. Smith, Virginia Democrat.

Aided by conservatives from both sides of the aisle, Mr. Smith has blocked passage of the civil rights legislation offered by Attorney General Brownell with the administration's sanction.

The measure to grant a $400 million annual subsidy for public school construction, over a four-year period, has been bottled up because Rep. Powell, Negro Democrat, of New York, is sponsoring an amendment that would deny federal aid to any state or subdivision failing to integrate its public schools.

The Powell amendment probably will be approved by the House if it comes to a vote, according to predictions of Washington political observers.

If enacted into law, the effect would be that Southern states refusing to integrate would be denied any part of a $1.6 billion federal fund, although contributing their shares of taxes to make this largest possible.

The administration's civil rights program would create a commission to deal with problems of racial "discrimination"; and would give the federal government, through the Department of Justice, unprecedented power to intervene directly in the affairs of the various states and communities, through civil or criminal proceedings. It also would

The Chotiner Case

I have never met Murray M. Chotiner, a California lawyer and politician, who has served Earl Warren, William Knowland and Richard Nixon as campaign manager. He was also Tom Dewey's manager in Southern California when Dewey hoped to be nominated for the presidency. In a word, Mr. Chotiner is a professional. Had Chotiner devoted himself entirely to the law and avoided politics, he might have turned himself into a glamorous personality in Beverly Hills, where he has his offices. He could then have handled the marriage and divorce business of his clients and got himself mentioned often as associated with well-advertised women who specialize in matters matrimonial.

Instead Chotiner went in for political management which meant that he was constantly making his own enemies and taking on the enemies of his protégés. He is now involved in a quarrel with some Democrats who are trying to establish the position that Chotiner has been a lawyer for crooks and that therefore Nixon should not be a candidate for Vice President.

Obviously if a man is a lawyer and is in politics and has clients, most of his clients will be men in trouble. That is the business of a lawyer, to look after men in trouble. If Congress ever reached the state of self-examination and self-criticism, it might see whether the law firms to which members of Congress belong, have no clients who are in trouble of one sort or another. And some of these troubles with many citizens have problems, they know their way around. Apparently, Murray Chotiner, as a Republican, knows his way around in this administration and therefore those who required such a lawyer, sought him out, in disregard of distance.

And what is more, nobody would have been surprised that he received a fee of $5,000. Lawyers charge lustily for their services, in or out of court, and a $5,000 fee is not a very big fee as anyone who gets into trouble knows. Lawyers do not have fixed rates but charge what the traffic will bear, which is their right if they can get the customers to pay.

As I say, I have not met Murray M. Chotiner but I have heard a statement which he issued to the press and in which he says: "If they (the Committee's counsel) are not playing politics and are

Lights Over Broadway

Jim Hagerty, Eisenhower's press aide, appears on the front pages almost as often as Mr. President. There is genuine mutual respect between the two men. Ironically, the relation was sparked by a heated disagreement shortly after Hagerty joined Eisenhower's staff. Following a cooling-off period Ike grinned: "You don't scare easily, do you?" The President then confided that when he was on Gen. MacArthur's staff he made a point of speaking up when he disagreed with his superior. Eisenhower added: "Jim, you are the same way with me and we'll get along all right."

Eisenhower's initial experience with surgery was the consequence of supreme preparedness and the ultimate in foresight. When he served in Panama, he casually remarked: "This is a fine day to have your appendix removed." A fellow officer asked Ike if he felt ill. "No," he answered, "I don't even know that I have an appendix. But it might rear up and put me out of action sometime when things aren't so quite."

There never was a lovelier bride than Dana Wynter—nor a luckier groom than Greg Bautzer... She is a rare Hollywood actress: A beauty with dignity as well as glamour... Dana, a Britisher, vowed to conquer a Yankee Doodler long before she met Gert... When she arrived in Hollywood she informed an interviewer: "I'm an admirer of American men. As a matter of fact, I'm mad about them. I intend to marry one someday. They pamper their women. They are proud to see their women well-dressed and happy. And the women reflect it."

In sum: Dana Cupid Triumphed Again.

The Jeanne Crain-Paul Brinkman unhappy ending is a typical Hollywood saga. A star can enchant millions, intensify emotions and amass great treasure without gaining essential emotional comfort. An unknown strolling in the park frequently has a deeper sense of serenity than the famous who habit the peaks of golden mountains. As Ava Gardner once bitterly commented: "There are times when everything is nothing."

Time, the reckless sculptor, carves beauty and destroys it... Evelyn Nesbit, 71, suffered a stroke in Hollywood. And only the other generation she was considered one of the world's most beautiful women... She was the showgirl in the Harry K. Thaw murder case... During the trial Evelyn's charms overwhelmed hard-boiled reporters... One gushed in print: "She has the slim grace of a faun, a head that sat on her flawless throat as a lily on its stem, eyes that were the color of blue-brown pansies and the size of half-dollars, a mouth made of ruffled rose-petals."

This reporter is reluctant to disillusion Jayne Mansfield's favorite male torso and the editors who were gullible for the "romance" story. Nevertheless, the truth is that Jayne is in love with photographers and is married to her career. My authority for that skew is Miss Mansfield... Several months ago she revealed: "I'm too busy to get married. I'm going to shuttle men in and out and have lots of intrigue all over the place. How can I get married anyhow when I'm always dedicating things all day long?" The second I sit down some college calls me up to do a little dedicating. And I love photographers."

Adlai Stevenson's latest squawk about news-slanting has some basis in fact. The fact is, however, Mr. Stevenson never expresses displeasure when a pro-Adlai paper slants the news in his favor... Newspapers generally strive to be fair... They cannot be completely objective... Machines print papers; human beings write them... A typewriter can be objective—not the man who uses it.

The most absurd case of news-slanting was illustrated by a St. Louis paper... Convinced that an umpire (the late Bill Klem) was giving the home team a raw deal—the paper launched an anti-Klem campaign. Several weeks later a fan died (of acute indigestion) while witnessing a game umpired by Mr. Klem... The newspaper promptly blamed the fan's demise on the ump's decisions with this wild headline: "Klem Kills Innocent Man."

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Judy asks if Jesus was a popular teen-ager? The Bible says he was and also shows that Christ believed in polls of public opinion—modern advertising strategy. He started the first church picnic and pioneered the first Easter sunrise breakfast. So read your Bible more appreciatively. It's really up-to-date!

Case R-342: Judy, aged 21, is our only daughter, sandwiched midway between her four brothers. She teaches a Sunday school class of girls.

"Daddy, you stress the importance of popularity," she began, "and I have heard you say that an unpopular clergyman, as well as a disliked school teacher, cannot accomplish much good.

"Well, I believe you are correct, for people will not take advice from anybody they hate."

"But do you think Jesus was a popular person? Apart from the fact that the crowds wanted free meals from Christ and free medicine, did they like Him as an individual?

"When he was a teen-ager, do you think He was popular? Does the Bible give us any specific proof that people liked Him even before He healed or fed them?"

Yes, the Bible gives us specific evidence that Jesus was a popular youth even as he entered the teens.

Many folks nowadays think the Bible pertains solely to events of the long ago. But it is alive and dynamic in every age.

Much of the Applied Psychology which I offer you in this daily newspaper's column and in my college textbook have derived from the Bible.

For instance, Gideon started the use of intelligence testing for army purposes. He screened out the unfit troops by the alertness they showed while undergoing the famous "drinking test" (Judges 7:5).

Gideon, too, demonstrated use of the "Compliment Club" technique for pacifying the angry Ephraimites, who might otherwise have tried to kill him, as you will find in Judges 8:13.

"And their anger was abated toward him, when he had said that (compliment)," the Bible adds.

When Jesus was 12 years old, his parents missed him from the caravan and returned to find him in the Temple, quizzing the professors and priests.

So, in his 13th year, he returned with his parents and we find that Luke 2:52, says:

"And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

Well, when one gains in favor with man, it means he is a popular person, so we now by this scriptural verse that Jesus was a popular teen-ager even before he fed the 5,000 or healed the lepers nearly 20 years later.

Jesus also believed in taking polls of public opinion, like our modern Gallop polls and Hooper or Nielsen surveys (Matthew 16:13).

Indeed he may have been flogging sleep just to take a sounding of the degree of faith of his followers during the storm at sea (Mark 4:37-39).

Christ also was a firm believer in advertising (Luke 10:1). He was fond of dinner parties and relished spending the weekend at the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus.

Jesus started the first Sunday school picnic when he fed the 5,000 men with the lad's loves and fishes.

And he started the Easter sunrise breakfast by inviting the fishermen from their boat at dawn to partake of the breakfast which he had ready on the fire.

Moses, too, was a typical victim of stage fright and stammered. King Saul was also so shy when he was to be crowned that he ran and hid in the luggage.

The Bible is as up-to-date as tomorrow's sunrise to read it. At least, peruse the Four Gospels, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, for they are responsible for most of our colleges and hospitals, churches, Red Cross and other modern humanitarian organizations.

will center on the committee's action in voting 9-5 yesterday to raise funds for foreign military aid by $600 million dollars. The House slashed this program by a billion dollars.

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the Senate Republican Policy Committee said there will be an effort to cut foreign aid even below the House allowances. He said the "outcome of the effort to raise $600 million dollars more in foreign military assistance is very much in doubt."

While Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California is supporting the increase, Bridges indicated he would not go that high. Bridges predicted the Senate may settle for somewhere between the Senate and House figures.

Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee, a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, voiced his support of the $600-million-dollar increase.

"We have to be guided in a matter so great by the recommendations of the President and the Joint Chiefs of Staff," Kefauver told a reporter. "In matters of foreign policy with the world situation what it is, it is time to close ranks."

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), who voted to support the increase, said in a separate interview that the decision "will be a close one."

As the committee continued its work on the bill behind closed doors, Chairman George (D-Ga.) said a Saturday session may be needed to complete action.

Sen. Langer (R-ND), who says he has "never voted for a single dollar" of this "so-called foreign giveaway" program since I have been in the Senate," advocated a cut of a billion dollars below that the House voted. Such a cut has been advocated by Chairman Russell (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee.

Two Communist Czech Cabinet Officers Ousted

VIENNA, June 15—UP—Communist leaders in Czechoslovakia ousted two cabinet ministers and the state prosecutor general in a major reshuffling and streamlining of the regime of Premier Viliam Siroky, Radio Prague announced Friday. The three ousted officials were Stalinists.

A number of government agencies, including the one that governed church affairs were abolished and several ministries were merged in the reorganization.

Prosecutor General Vaclav Aleš was dismissed and was succeeded by Minister of Justice Jan Bartusák.

Ales was judge in the trials of executed Communist leader Rudolf Slansky and American newspaperman William Oatis who was jailed as a spy. His ousting was similar to the firing of prosecutors in Bulgaria earlier this year on grounds of "criminal" activities.

The ministry reorganization was similar to a decentralization program in Russian government agencies recently.

The broadcast said the central committee of the Czech Communist party met after the conclusion of a five-day party conference at Prague and approved the new government.

Minister for Light Industry Alois Malek and Minister for Culture Ladislav Stoll were fired. Vice Premier Vaclav Škoda was removed from his post but was given the job of minister of finance.

Three others also were stricken from government ministry rolls, but were given high party or legal functions.

The shakeup followed the recent ousting of Czech Defense Minister and Vice Premier Alexei Ceplík, son-in-law of the late President Klement Gottwald and an ardent follower of the downgraded Josef Stalin.

There has been considerable evidence in recent days of turmoil in Czechoslovakia, which fell to Communist control in a 1948 coup.

11 French, 65 Arab Troops Die In Fight

AGIERS, June 15—UP—French troops killed 65 Arab guerrillas and captured 50 in a series of skirmishes in terror-ridden Algeria Friday, authorities here announced.

At least 11 French soldiers were killed and seven wounded in short, sharp encounters.

Most of Friday's fighting occurred in western Algeria, but the one battle most damaging to the guerrillas took place in the eastern province of Constantine. French troops killed 25 Arabs in a band that attacked the pro-French village of Maddid, 85 miles west of the provincial capital.

Another guerrilla band ambushed a French patrol in a deserted village some 5 miles southwest of the western provincial capital of Oran. Eight French soldiers were killed and seven wounded, but the soldiers struck back to kill 20 Arabs and capture eight.

TOKYO, June 15—UP—The Communist radio reported Friday that nearly 20 per cent of China's $12.8 billion budget for 1956 will be spent on arms for "defense" against the United States and its allies in the Far East.

Vice Premier and Finance Minister Li Hsien-Nien told a meeting of the Communist People's Congress that nearly $2.56 billion—19.98 per cent of the total—has been earmarked for defense.

"This is necessary because the imperialists still occupy Taiwan (Formosa) and are setting up aggressive military blocs, obstructing arms reduction and the easing of world tension," Li said.

The "imperialists" on Formosa are U. S. military advisers. "Aggressive military blocs" is the customary Red label for U. S. defense alliances.

Citizens Council Denies Charge It Is 'Un-American'

NEW ORLEANS, June 15 (AP) — The executive committee of the New Orleans white Citizens Council today denied a charge that the group's activities were un-American.

The citizens council termed a recent statement by the Commission on Human Rights of the Catholic Committee of the South "false and deliberately misleading."

In a statement signed by Dr. Emmett L. Irwin, chairman, the group said the Catholic laymen's organization was a "secret and illegal organization of individuals who conceal their identity behind the sanctimonious name . . ." and "its founder and moderator, the Rev. Joseph H. Fichter, S. J. (was) the only member whose identity has thus far been revealed."

The statement said the commission "falsely brands the Citizens Council as a racist white supremacy organization, hoping to discredit the efforts being made by the council to preserve the racial integrity of both the white and Negro races by the maintenance of segregation."

The council, it said, "is not a racist organization because it does not advocate race hatred, nor is it a white supremacy organization because it does not believe in the domination of one race or the subjugation of the other."

"The Commission on Human Rights," the statement said, "falsely denounces the Citizens Council as un-American because it seeks to perpetuate the sovereign rights of the states under the constitution of the United States.

It is a false denunciation because our entire structure of federal government is based upon the preservation of the strength of all the states which created the union and the constitution."

The commission earlier in the week gave 10 reasons for its charge of un-Americanism on the council's part.

The council replied with these questions:

1. What is this Commission on Human Rights of the Catholic Committee of the South?

2. Does this organization speak with the authority of the Catholic Church?

3. From what source is derived the right to speak for all members of the Catholic Church?

4. Who are the members of the Catholic Committee of the South?

"These questions remain unanswered," the statement said. "and the commission remains an unlawful organization still hiding behind the mask of secrecy."

Woman Elected Methodist Deacon In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss., June 15 (UPI) — For the first time in memory of officials, a woman has been chosen a Methodist deacon in Mississippi.

Mrs. Normal Durham Levy of Poplarville was elected to the order of deacons this morning by the Mississippi Methodist Conference at Galloway Memorial Church here.

The Methodist General Conference voted at a recent meeting in Minneapolis to accept women as preachers, but Mississippi has none as yet.

A resolution asking for the return of Bishop Marvin A. Franklin to the Jackson area for another four years was presented by Dr. B. M. Hunt and was unanimously accepted by a standing vote. Bishop Franklin has served in Mississippi for eight years.

The deacons elected were ordained tonight and included, in addition to Mrs. Levy, Floyd Wesley Odum of Jackson, Lannie Alvin Cumberland of Silver Creek, George Harold Fleming of Puckett, Buford Allen Dickinson of Atlanta, Ga., William Thomas Gober of Jackson, Edward Whitmer McCrae of Pascagoula, Robert Chase May of Yazoo City, Harold Glenn Peden of Terry, Edgar Lee Stark Jr., Terry and Ernest Philip Schwartz of Atlanta. The Georgia deacons are moving to Mississippi.

Ministerial appointments for the conference, which covers the southern half of Mississippi, will be announced Sunday afternoon.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX —

- Do Some Matchmaking
- Stop Looking Backward

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Hugh and I have been married two years, and have a year-old baby. Hugh works at night, and Saturday and Sunday are the only nights we can be home together or go to a movie.

I understand that a husband has the right to a "night out with the boys," and in Hugh's case, this could only be a week-end night. His friend is an unmarried man and they go out together about once a month, staying until 4 or 5 in the morning. Of course the next day he has to sleep, or is sick from drinking too much.

Naturally I get upset, but Hugh says if I loved and trusted him, it wouldn't matter where he goes or when he comes home. All they do, according to my husband, is drink and talk.

This is the only cause for arguments between us. Marriage limits a wife's recreation; why doesn't it do the same for a husband's?

Hope

DEAR HOPE: Why not be real crafty about this one? Invite the unmarried friend for dinner, and an unmarried girl to round out the party, and perhaps romance will blossom right there.

Even if you can't turn the bachelor into a benedict, try to interest your husband in having his gabfests at home. Provide the beer, some rye bread and cheese, then go to a movie with a girl friend.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Four years ago, at the age of 20, I married Earl. We have two dear little girls but I yearn for my courtship days of 17 and 18 and am very depressed when I realize they are gone forever. Although Earl is a very good husband — in fact, just about ideal — I am sure I no longer love him. Is it that I was just in love with love?

Ilena

DEAR ILENA: Courtship days are very lovely, and I guess every female harks back to them now and then. However, when they assume such proportions in one's life that the present loses its meaning, it's time for a revaluation.

In longing for the past, you are overlooking some wonderful things in the present — your children's babyhood, for instance. Come back to us, Ilena; try 1956 on for size, make the most of now and plan for the future. Put the past back where it belongs — pleasant memories to be remembered.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm having neighbor trouble. We live in a duplex apartment with people who have two children. Their dog going all day, and the lady of the house is either typing or sewing, making an awful racket. I don't speak to the family as I have words with the mother over one of her children speaking rudely to me. I haven't made friends since we moved here six months ago and I am miserable.

DEAR JANIE: Can't you hire a maid to sweep that chip off your shoulder? At the rate you're going, you never will make anything but enemies.

The "racket" your neighbor makes doesn't seem out of order. A typewriter or sewing machine can make just so much noise, and no more. If you live in a house with other people, you simply must adjust to a certain amount of noise.

Next, get on speaking terms with the woman right now! It's absolutely childish, even infantile, to go on these nonspeaking jags. A remark made by a child, no matter how out-of-order, is no justification for your behavior.

The world is just full of people, we must live with them, and if we are to be happy we must learn to get along with them. Snap into reality.

Suspect Charged In $6,350 Burglary Of Bastrop Firm

BASTROP, June 15 (Special) — Sheriff E. J. Hinton, Morehouse parish, said Friday that Jack Trayler, 20, of Route 1, Bastrop, was apprehended about 5 p.m. Thursday, and charged with burglary of the Bastrop Drug Company store on the night of June 7. Sheriff Hinton said that Trayler admitted the burglary.

The sheriff also said that about $6,300 total was reported missing from the store.

Trayler was being held Friday in the Morehouse parish jail. No bond or trial date had been set Friday afternoon.

Steel Industry Offers Rejected By Negotiators

NEW YORK, June 15—UP—The United Steelworkers Union Friday rejected a contract proposal which the steel industry said would have provided a package increase of 65 cents an hour over the next five years.

President David J. McDonald of the Steelworkers Union, which represents 650,000 workers, said the increase in take home pay during the first year would amount to five cents an hour. He said the offer made by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, and Republic Steel, the big three of the industry, was "too little, too late, and too long."

"The titans of industry have labored and brought forth a 'louse,'" he said after a meeting of the 170-man steelworkers policy committee which considered the big three offer.

Industry spokesmen said the offer included supplemental employment benefits, the guaranteed wage, to cover 52 weeks of the year. They also said the immediate boost in the next year would amount to 17-23 cents an hour.

Some of the fringe benefits under the companies' proposal would not become effective until later years, and this portion of the plan drew special fire from McDonald, who said no "industry propaganda as to the 'package value of the offer' would obscure the five-cent figure, which he insisted would be the immediate boost in the take-home pay.

"It is this amount and not a fictitious package that is available to buy groceries," he said.

The union chief said the steelworkers also were offered an automatic increase averaging about five-cents an hour in each of the four remaining years of the contract's duration.

McDonald told reporters his hopes for an early settlement pos-

GOP Convention

Racially-Mixed Delegate Slate Named In Miss.

JACKSON, Miss., June 15 (UPI)—A Mississippi faction of the Republican party held a racially mixed state convention today and named six white men and nine Negroes as delegates to the National GOP Convention.

The delegates were pledged to vote for the nomination of President Eisenhower.

About one-fifth of the 120 delegates were white persons sprinkled through the unsegregated auditorium in the Negro district of Jackson.

The faction is known as the Black and Tan Grand Old Party and is dominated by Negroes and headed by Perry Howard, Washington attorney who is the only member of his race on the Republican National Committee.

This group historically has been recognized by the national party as the official Mississippi machinery.

Opposing the Howard faction is the all-white Mississippi Republican Party which convened earlier and named a slate of 15 delegates to the San Francisco convention also supporting the President.

It will be up to the credentials committee to decide which group is seated. The losing group can appeal to the entire convention.

Both factions claim they will be the one winning recognition.

The all-white faction is led by E. O. Spencer of Jackson, a prominent businessman who headed the Citizens for Eisenhower movement in Mississippi in 1952.

At the orderly convention today, S. W. Miller, a Jackson Negro who is chairman of the state executive committee, said "We are working out an idealistic program with representation from both races working harmoniously. We work together, we die together, why not vote together?"

There was some question about the legality of an integrated meeting but chief of detectives M. B. Pierce said there is no law against it.

Howard called the all-white Mississippi Republican party "intruders and hijackers." He admitted that Spencer had dispensed GOP patronage under the Eisenhower administration, however.

He looked over the mixed audience and said:

"You represent the best people of Mississippi and are representative of how it will be in heaven . . . Negroes and whites together."

The convention named the following delegation to the national convention:

From the state at large—H. S. Massey, Iuka, a white man; Perry Howard, national committeeman, S. W. Miller, Jackson; and Col. T. E. Rhodes of French Camp, a white man.

First District—Dr. T. L. Zuber, West Point; C. L. Beard of Iuka, a white man.

Second District—C. C. Lord, Charleston, white man.

Third District—F. H. Miller of attack.

Mound Bayou, and J. C. Gillam of Clarksdale.

Fourth District—The Rev. J. W. Tandy, Jackson, and Anna Womond, national committeewoman, Jackson.

Fifth District—Z. E. Roth, Meridian, a white man; E. Lee Williams, Newton, a white man.

Sixth District—The Rev. G. C. Wells, Hattiesburg; and Dr. H. J. Fields, Laurel.

Mississippi will have 15 votes at the national convention Aug. 20. The delegation will vote under the unit rule, a majority controlling the vote of all.

No Challenges Sent To Voters In Union Parish

FARMERVILLE, June 15 (UPI)—No challenges of voter registrations have been mailed from the Union parish registrar of voters' office, Woodrow Farrar said today.

Classes in band, choir, orchestra, voice, piano, organ, baton twirling, dancing, sketching, dramatics and other subjects will be conducted.

Among the out-of-state guest instructors on the staff of the summer camp are the following persons:

Harry John Brown, assistant conductor of the Boston Pops Touring Orchestra; Sigurd Rascher, known as "The Paganini of the Saxophone"; Bob Roberts, head of the "College of the Baton" of Los Angeles; Hilda Gay Mayberry of Louisville, Ky., one of the country's most spectacular baton twirlers; Naomi Zarbock, senior national champion twirler of 1951; Juanita Carpenter, head majorette of Purdue University, and "Pee Wee" Crumpler, noted Arkansas teacher of drum majoring and twirling.

Others are Richard McCluggage of Vivian; Phil Kendall of Homer; Ralph Pierce of Arcadia; Homer Brown of Rayville; C. P. Brupbacher of West Monroe; Solon King of Monroe; Helen Ferrel of Shreveport; Faye Parker of Minden; Gladys Robinson of Winnsboro; Ione Bivens of Lillie; and Edward Mitcham of Ruston.

The staff also includes several Tech faculty members and students as well as some former Tech campers.

Series Of Parties Fete Miss Garnet Montgomery

TALLULAH—Miss Garnet Montgomery, whose wedding today is an interesting event of the summer season, was the honoree at a brunch given at the home of Mrs. George Kimbrough with Mrs. Maxwell Yerger and Mrs. J. C. Sherwin as co-hostesses.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of colorful fruits and vegetables, a "fan" of bananas being used as the background.

The bride-elect, her mother, Mrs. Field Montgomery and twenty-five other friends were in attendance.

Another courtesy extended Miss Montgomery was the bridge-lunch given by Mrs. George M. Webb and Mrs. Rufus Yerger at the Yerger home on Friday. A bride doll and twin wedding rings emphasized the bridal theme.

The games resulted in Mrs. Andrew Yerger capturing the high score prize, Mrs. Maxwell Yerger cut consolation and Mrs. Field Montgomery was winner of the low score prize. The hostesses presented the bride-to-be with a trousseau gift.

Attending were Miss Montgomery, Mrs. Field Montgomery, Mrs. Maxwell Yerger, Mrs. George Kimbrough, Mrs. J. C. Sherwin, Mrs. Edward Yerger, Mrs. Andrew Yerger, Mrs. Mark Brown, Mrs. J. G. Wyly, Mrs. R. L. Bailey Jr., Miss Flora Montgomery, and Mrs. Harry Holt.

Mrs. W. E. Regenold entertained with a delightful morning coffee at the American Legion home honoring Miss Montgomery and Miss Sarah Ann Schneider of Lake Providence, two brides-to-be of the month.

Tea In Oak Ridge Honors Miss Sara Ann Schneider

Miss Sara Ann Schneider, whose marriage to Joseph M. Bott, Jr., was solemnized in Lake Providence on June 14, was honoree on Monday afternoon when at a beautiful tea in the home of Mrs. Neil Mott in Oak Ridge. Co-hostesses for the Mrs. H. A. Pipes, Jr., and Mrs. J. C. Causey.

Mrs. Mott met the guests at the door, and Mrs. Causey received with the bride, the groom's mother Mrs. J. M. Mott, and the bride's mother, Mrs. F. H. Schneider. Miss Schneider wore a polished cotton sheath frock printed with pale blue flowers. Her corsage was of lilies of the valley.

Miss Ruth Herson received in the back hall. Mrs. H. A. Pipes, Jr., and Mrs. W. M. Wolfe alternated at the guest register which was placed near the dining room door.

White flowers were used exclusively in the dining room where Mrs. H. A. Pipes, was room hostess. The large dining table was covered with a white linen drawn work cloth. The centerpiece of white carnations, steponitis and glads was between a pair of triple branched silver candleabra holding white tapers. Mrs. Sam Conger, aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Conrad McDuffie took turns serving punch from a crystal bowl at the end of the table. Tea girls during the first hour were Misses Linda Files, Mary Margaret Gee, Roxie Greene, Billie Jean Carroll. During the next hour, Misses Nancy Files, Marcia Files and Mollie Carroll.

Assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. T. L. Smith, Mrs. W. N. McDuffie, Mrs. W. W. Nolan, Mrs. C. G. Rolfe, Mrs. Edwin Conger, Mrs. J. S. Barr, and Mrs. Mott's mother, Mrs. W. O. Files.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. E. T. Davidson, Mrs. A. H. Davenport, Mrs. G. D. Bacon, Mrs. Elaine Armstrong, Mrs. C. G. White, Mrs. Warren White, Mrs. Shelby White, Mrs. Jessy Graves, Mrs. Jack Reily, Miss Debbie Pinkston, Mrs. Ruth Andrews, Mrs. T. H. B. Rankin, Mrs. W. T. Blackwell, and Miss H. C. Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Here is the starting position for an exercise for the arms.

Sports, Exercise Help Reduce, Flabby Arms

When overweight is present the upper arms sometimes accumulate a lot of fat. Of course if you lose weight the contour of your arms improves too. However exercise is an effective weapon. You will not see immediate results because improvement takes time but is well worth the effort.

Some sports are splendid. I am thinking of golf, tennis, badminton, bowling and swimming. Indian clubs are also a help. Using these will aid general weight reduction.

Exercises

I have given this exercise before but it is one of the best I have found for reducing the upper arms. Stand tall with your arms at your sides. Raise both arms forward, shoulder height and shoulder width apart. Swing the arms down and back HARD. The palms are turned in when the arms are raised forward. They turn back when the arms swing down and back. Reach back as far as possible. Swing the arms forward again, palms facing, and continue.

Flabbiness of the arms sometimes follows a too rapid loss of a great many pounds. However it is a tendency which most women observe from middle life on. Exercise is the only answer.

The sports I mentioned above are splendid for firming the upper arms. Also try this exercise. Stand tall. Raise your arms sideways, shoulder height, palms facing the ceiling. Clench your fists HARD as you SLOWLY bend your elbows to touch the fingers to the tops of your shoulders. Straighten to shoulder height position and continue. Do this very slowly and continue. If you would like to have my exercises for the arms send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 11 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

WASHINGTON, June 16—UP-Churches, labor unions and merchants' associations are banding together in an effort to curb the growing Sunday "business as usual" challenge to the already-battered tradition of Sabbath observance.

While "open Sunday" signs were once confined largely to drug stores and delicatessens, they now are becoming commonplace in windows of appliance, hardware and furniture stores, automobile agencies and supermarkets.

Protestant and Catholic leaders are alarmed. They look on Sunday selling as a far more serious threat to Christian teachings than Sunday movies and baseball. Some religious groups fought a losing battle against such things half a generation ago.

President Takes Food By Mouth; Abdomen 'Normal'

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP) — President Eisenhower's doctors announced today he had passed another milestone on the recovery road, but there was still no word whether he would go through with his drive for a second term.

A medical bulletin announced that "normal physiological activity of the intestinal tract" had been restored, six days after he underwent an emergency abdominal operation.

This news from Walter Reed Army Hospital was coupled with word at noon that it had not been necessary to feed the President intravenously since last evening. Today he was sipping two ounces of warm liquids—such as beef broth and tea—from a cup every hour.

In late afternoon another medical bulletin said Eisenhower was progressing "very satisfactorily" and had gone through "a good day." The report at 5:15 p.m. EDT said he "continued to receive fluids by mouth" and James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said the President remained off the intravenous feeding.

Eisenhower slept at intervals during the afternoon but was awake to chat with Mrs. Eisenhower and receive a brief visit from his son and daughter-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower.

Responding to a question, Hagerty said Eisenhower's physicians were not ready to say he was permanently off the feeding by vein. Hagerty indicated the doctors are withholding a final decision until they see whether the President is receiving enough nourishment, without pain, by mouth.

To another question Hagerty said Eisenhower still is not being given anticoagulants to thin his blood. The anticoagulants were discontinued a week ago when he entered the hospital. The President had been taking them steadily from the time of his heart attack last September.

Eisenhower also listened to radio music for the first time since his illness. It was piped in into his hospital room by a Washington station. The selections included several of his requests. Among them: Strauss Viennese waltzes, Mendelssohn symphonies, and U.S. Army band renditions of John Philip Sousa marches.

On the business side, the President conferred for 15 minutes with his chief aide, Sherman Adams, and signed a total of 21 documents.

The 1950 U. S. census (the first) cost $44,000; that of 1950 cost 90 million dollars.

Albin P. Lassiter Invited To Lecture At Northwestern

Albin P. Lassiter, district attorney for Ouachita and Morehouse parishes, has been invited to become a member of the lecture staff of the eleventh annual short course for prosecuting attorneys sponsored by the School of Law of Northwestern University, Chicago, Illinois, beginning July 30th.

Lassiter has been assigned the topic "Effective Prosecution Trial Techniques". In addition he will handle the prosecution in a mock trial to illustrate the introduction of expert evidence in handwriting and typewriting.

Fred E. Inabau, Professor of criminal law and criminology has been outstanding during the past several years and he was the subject of a recent article in the "How to Make A Killer Confess."

He is also managing director of The Journal of Criminal Law, Criminology and Police Science, and author of many books and articles.

The lecture staff has 20 members, among whom is Irving Goldstein, noted trial attorney of Chicago, and author of the book "Trial Technique." Goldstein has recently held special courses for lawyers in New Orleans and Shreveport.

Dr. Richard Ford, head of department of legal medicine of Harvard University, Dr. C. W. Muehlberger, state toxicologist of Michigan, Ordway Hilton, examiner of questioned documents, New York City, and Rush C. Clarke, assistant attorney general of Nebraska are some of the others to serve on the lecture staff of the course this year.

8,500 Fingerling Bass Released In Stream

MER ROUGE, June 15 (Special) — A total of 8,500 fingerling bass were distributed on the Bonne Idee dam to the Mer Rouge highway yesterday morning by personnel of District II, Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission.

In early spring, Commission biologists released 180,000 bream in the same area.

The bass came from the Beechwood Hatchery near Alexandria. They were released in the stream at four different points, the first of 20,000 to be distributed on the Bonne Idee during June and July. The Bonne Idee is 33 miles long and includes about 835 acres of surface water.

Mexico used 350,000 bales of cotton in 1953 and 420,000 bales in 1955.

Highlights From The Ticker Tape

Representative Wilson of California predicted that the Convair division of General Dynamics will start by the first of the year on a plant to build an atomic powered seaplane. He also said that he would assume that a similar contract will go to Glenn L. Martin Company.

The proposed acquisition of the government owned Buitadien plant at Louisville by Union Carbide was disapproved by the House Armed Services Committee. The House is expected to follow the committee's recommendation.

American Motors announced that it would shut down its Rambler car assembly line Monday at Kenosha, Wis., for one week. About 3,500 of the 6,000 workers employed would be laid off.

The chemical industry is finding a booming market for air and air-derived products. The use of oxygen alone has risen from six billion cubic feet in 1940 to an estimated 71 billion this year.

Air conditioning can start corrosion, says Electrical World, if it causes moisture to collect on susceptible metallic surfaces.

Alexandria Romps To Double Triumph Over Monroe

Aces Tag Sports,
7-2, In 1st Game;
Take Second, 9-4

The Alexandria Aces stormed Monroe for a double victory here last night, blasting the Sports, 7-2, in the seven inning opener and coming back for a 9-4 decision in the nightcap.

The Aces used six unearned runs to beat Jerry Neal in the first, and went on a 13-hit spree against four Monroe pitchers to claim the second.

A free pass to Marty DeLaune and singles by Ed Richardson, Manager "Red" Smith, and Bob Smith, with a couple of errors sandwiched in, helped the Aces to their four runs in the opening inning of the first game.

The Sports got two back in their half of the first when Joe Miller's doubled scored Don Pierce and Keith Mitchell, both aboard on free passes.

The Aces added one in the fifth on singles by Richardson and Red Smith and Roy Manlie's wide throw to third after Smith's blow, permitting Richardson to score, and another unearned run in the sixth when DeLaune walked, stole second, and came all the way when Miller's throw was wide to second.

The scoring in the second game was cracked open by Monroe in the fourth inning when Keith Mitchell's triple scored Bill Carr who had singled. Mitchell scored when the Aces' Dye, fielding Jim Johnson's hopper, threw for the plate but hit his pitcher, John Coddington, who was racing to cover first, in the head. Coddington, staggered by the blow, kept his feet but was removed from the game.

Then Richardson's sixth inning triple for the Aces scored Clyde Gisclair who had walked. Dye's single scored Richardson with the tying run.

Morris Millet, aboard on an error, advanced on singles by Mitchell and Johnston and scored on a wild pitch to send the Sports ahead again in their half of the sixth.

But three runs after two were out shot the Aces ahead in the top of the seventh. Gisclair singled. Richardson walked. R. Smith's single scored Gisclair. Smith stole second, and Richardson scored when Serzen's throw to second went wide. Klinsmith relieved Hartsoe who had replaced Davolio in the sixth. A single by Dye scored Smith. The Aces went for insurance in the ninth. Gisclair doubled, scored on R. Smith's single. Yanchurs walked. Bob Smith doubled. R. Smith home. DeHondt singled. Yanchurs across. Harrison struck out, but Serzen lost the ball and B. Smith counted.

The Sports managed one in the ninth after two were out when an error, a base on balls and a single by Pierce loaded the bases, and Millet walked to force Connolly across.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message letters under the checked figures given you.

Harriman Plans To Participate In Rally At Denver

DENVER, June 15—UP—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York will personally take a hand Saturday in a move to organize support from 11 western states in his bid for nomination as Democratic candidate for president.

Harriman, coincidentally, will arrive at Denver at 2 p.m. CST, on the same plane with Stephen Mitchell, former Democratic national chairman and strong supporter of Adlai Stevenson for the party's top nomination. Mitchell will address a three-county Democratic fund raising dinner at Welby, a suburb of Denver, later in the day.

Democratic officials invited Harriman to attend the Welby dinner also and he accepted, saying "I am glad to address any Democrat's anywhere—Anytime."

Two prominent Democrats will kick off the Harriman rally Saturday morning in the auditorium of the National Farmers Union building and the New York governor will address the gathering of approximately 250 of his supporters shortly after lunch. The Welby dinner will be held that evening.

Government Refuses To Discuss Report H-Bomb Missed Target 7 Miles

WASHINGTON, June 15—UP—The government refused Friday to discuss reports that the hydrogen bomb dropped from a B-52 in last month's Bikini test missed the target "by a matter of miles."

The reports were heard on Capitol Hill. The Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department refused to confirm or deny them.

An official task force statement shortly after the May 21 drop said early indications were that all scientific experiments in connection with the explosion were a success. They could not have been if the bomb had exploded far from the Namu Island target.

In war, it would not make much difference if a big H-bomb did explode considerably wide of its target, so great is its destructive range. For scientific test purposes, however, a miss of miles or even thousands of yards could ruin experiments involving precise measurements of light, blast, radiation, and other effects.

In Honolulu, the Star-Bulletin quoted a "technician based on Eniwetok" as saying that the bomb was dropped seven miles off target. The technician was quoted as saying that test personnel fear for their lives in case of another such misfire.

An Air Force spokesman said: "The recent thermonuclear air drop at Bikini was conducted as scheduled. The Air Force considers that the ability of the B-52 bomber to deliver a thermonu-nounces that a new site has just been purchased at Cypress and Clayton streets and on this property a larger and down-to-the-minute bank will be erected.

A chief feature, one lacking in the present location, will be ample drive-in and parking facilities. Both these lacks will be well overcome in the new building, cost of which even the bank officers are not yet able to state.

We like to see progress and banks are the heart beat of any community. If they do well so do their communities. We are assured that both West Monroe and Monroe are proceeding along the right track as they progress.

Gutzon Borglum, world renowned sculptor who started probably his finest work on the granite face of Stone Mountain, near Atlanta, Ga., failed through some misunderstanding to complete this mighty Confederate memorial. Soon after it was too late, for he died in 1941 and the unfinished work remained.

Now a non-profit, Stone Mountain Confederate Memorial, Inc., group, has been set up and is making a study of how to complete this colossal work of art that should endure through the ages.

Fifteen Georgians have formed the new memorial association to complete the great task. A prominent bank president in Atlanta has been named chairman of the group.

Stone Mountain is a mile-long granite monolith rising 650 feet above the Piedmont plateau 20 miles east of Atlanta.

The original idea of making this mountain a mammoth memorial was an idea originating in the mind of Mrs. Helen Plane, back in 1915 then president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

We hope now progress will go forward toward a successful completion born of a great idea.

Jaycees are planning their installation banquet at the Saddle and Spur restaurant, next Thursday at 7 p.m.

Wives and friends of the Jaycees are cordially invited to attend the banquet.

The incoming officers are listed as follows: President, Ford Pipes; vice-presidents, Billy Hargiss, Fred Landry, Chris Pittman, Earl Hoodecker, Harry Bell, Sam Davis, Guy Jones and Mac Ballard. Looks like listing names from a city directory, but these are all good men and will add lustre to one incorrect insertion.

Capital Transit Sold By Wolfson

WASHINGTON, June 15—UP—Capital Transit Co., controlled by financier Louis E. Wolfson, today sold Washington's bus and street car system to National City Lines, Inc., of Chicago for $13,400,000.

The deal is subject to approval by Congress.

If it goes through, Wolfson would end a controversial seven years in the capital's transit picture with an estimated 320 per cent profit on the $2,200,000 he and his associates originally invested.

Congress gets into the situation because the franchise for transit service in the District of Columbia is covered by federal law.

Every BAND of any consequence is certainly expected to excel in a musical way and is thus remembered.

10. BIG SCARES are certainly important journalistically, but big SCORES often mean that one side has been very much stronger than another, leading, of course, to a dull match.

14. A "Jamboree" can be an international Boy SCOUT rally" OR "a noisy carousal" SHOUT is apt for BOTH definitions and is thus better than SCOUT.

15. If only NINE turn up he will definitely be infuriated. If NONE turn up, he will do his best to find out the reason for the delay, and curb his anger until he knows if or why they are definitely not coming.

20. FEET are bound to be mentioned by someone if they are out of the ordinary—big or small, etc., FEAT is not apt since the clue says "if out of the ordinary" and a FEAT must be out of the ordinary or it is not a FEAT.

22. The clue says "suggests." SENOR suggests a man—a Spaniard, for example. A TENOR is a man; to say that TENOR SUGGESTS a man is incorrect.

23. "JUST because" implies that your reason for refusal is not really good, favoring OLD. A type who's a BIT OLD may be perfectly alright. If she's a bit ODD, however, she definitely has her drawbacks and a very good reason for not hiring her.

4. Some TRUCKS are not suitable for really heavy transport. Some TRACKS are unsuitable for ANY transport at all.

7. Quite true if they are WAITING to get a divorce, since the law moves slowly. WANTING is less apt since, although they WANT to get a divorce, they may be prevented from doing so, for various reasons, to a point where they will not be able to do so.

11. LOB is best since the clue specified "at times." Controlling a LOB is difficult AT TIMES. Control of a MOB, necessarily an unruly crowd, is ALWAYS difficult. COB, BOB or GOB are too remote.
